INTRODUCTION

Katherine Skinner, Joshua Neds-Fox, Liz Hamilton,
Char Simser, Terry Owen, Katherine Purple

Welcome to the 2017 Library Publishing Directory, which reveals and celebrates the wide range of publishing activities underway in college and university libraries worldwide. In this volume—the fourth in its series—we provide overviews of the library publishing programs in 118 institutions in the US, Canada, Brazil, the UK, Germany, and Australia.

Since October 2013, the Library Publishing Coalition (LPC) has produced the Directory annually in order to make more visible the investments that libraries are making and the range of outputs they are delivering. Rather than focusing exclusively on the LPC's own membership, this publication aims to establish the most comprehensive set of information possible about university and college libraries that are engaging in publishing activities. Through it, we can see what “publishing” entails in different environments, and the remarkable consistency in growth and development this subfield has experienced over the last four years.

The Directory is aimed at a diverse, multi-stakeholder audience that includes the library publishers themselves, as well as a growing roster of peers and collaborative partners that include scholars, other types of publishers, aggregators, distributors, and data analysts. We hope the Directory makes collaborative work easier to both envision and undertake through its exposure of information about who is doing this work, where it is happening, what platforms and resources it involves, and what forms it takes.

The LPC's Directory Committee produces and maintains the Directory annually as both a print and digital publication. Invitations to contribute to the Directory are issued broadly each summer by the Committee through scholarly communications listservs, social media outlets, and also through direct contact with all institutions that have prepared entries in the past. New respondents take a brief survey to provide structured information about their programs; existing respondents are required to review and fully update their annual data in order to be included (and 99 of them did so this year). The Committee then works together to review and edit all entries. The Committee also prepares the Directory for its print publication, and the Directory data set for analysis.

Joshua Neds-Fox (Wayne State University) chaired the Directory Committee this year, and Katherine Purple (Purdue University) coordinated the print production and publication process. Additional committee members provided oversight, survey refinement, proofreading, and myriad other crucial forms of assistance, including Liz Hamilton (Northwestern University), Char Simser (Kansas State University), and Terry Owen (University of Maryland). Korey Jackson (Oregon State University) served as the Board Liaison. Sarah Lippincott (Educopia Institute) and Courtney Vukasinovic (Educopia Institute) facilitated, helped to aggregate the data for analysis, and kept everything organized and on schedule throughout the year.

We hope the Directory provides university and college libraries with evidence of the success libraries are having in providing publishing services and how they have formed, funded, staffed, and provided appropriate infrastructures for these services.

LIBRARY PUBLISHING LANDSCAPE 2017

Each year, the Directory Committee mines the Directory data set in order to synthesize and survey the range of programs for trends and developments. The 2017 data continue to build upon the evolution we've watched over the last four years, toward broader partnerships, nimble staffing models, broad service offerings, and both a philosophical and practice-based preference for open access implementations. The summary analysis below highlights elements that stand out as important markers of the characteristics of library publishing today.

PARTNERSHIPS

Collaboration remains a hallmark of library publishing activities, anchored by strong campus-based interactions, but stretching increasingly across university presses, scholarly societies, consortia, museums, and independent researchers. Nearly all programs report partnering with campus departments and programs (93%) and with individual faculty (93%). Well over half of the responding programs report also partnering with graduate students (72%) and undergraduate students (63%). Fully 40 of the 118 libraries profiled herein are working with at least one university press, representing an increase of 10 institutions since 2016.

PUBLICATION TYPES

The broad range of publication types supported across library publishing programs continues to include journals, monographs, textbooks, technical reports, conference proceedings, and theses and dissertations. Libraries reported a steady increase in the number of items they published this year, including 436 faculty-driven, campus-based journals (vs. last year's 404), 905 monographs (vs. last year's 773), and 65 textbooks (vs. last year's 58). Of particular interest this year is the continuing increase in both data set publishing and publishing for external groups. Libraries reported publishing 522 data sets this year, nearly seven times the amount published just one year ago (80). Cambridge University Library published the lion's share of these, with 460 publications. Additionally, the number of publications produced by library publishers for external groups increased from 189 in 2016 to 249 in 2017. This data shows that the reach of library publishers is continuing to expand, both in terms of the number of publications produced and also in the types of non-campus-based partnerships in which they engage.

SERVICES

In addition to the production of a range of volume types, library publishers offer a suite of publishing services that support the production, dissemination, and preservation of scholarly works. These largely complement and extend the traditional skillsets and functions performed by the library. Respondents reported their work in an expanding range of service areas, including copyright advising (93%), metadata services (90%), training (87%), digitization (84%), and the hosting of supplemental content—for example, audio, video, data, and visualizations (81%).

Half or more of respondents also offer analytics (74%), cataloging (68%), outreach (62%), ISSN assignment (62%), DOI assignment (56%), media streaming (51%), and advising services for authors (50%). A significant number also offer data set management (45%), marketing (43%), peer review management (39%), and graphic design (39%).

Preservation services continue to grow across the responding programs. The largest percentage of respondents engages in a range of LOCKSS-based infrastructures, including LOCKSS (31 institutions), CLOCKSS (14 institutions), the MetaArchive Cooperative (9 institutions), and the COPPUL Digital Preservation Network (4 institutions). Others report their use of HathiTrust for digitized books (21 institutions) and Portico (20 institutions) for journal content. Many respondents report that they are providing “in house” preservation (52 institutions) or that they are currently discussing preservation (41 institutions).

FUNDING AND STAFFING

Just under half of respondents (48%) report receiving all of their funding from the library’s operational budget. An additional 7% report drawing all of their funding from the materials’ budget. Forty-six percent report using a mix of revenue generation and operational support, including from sales (13 institutions), endowment (12 institutions), licensing (4 institutions), and charge backs (7 institutions). Some institutions also report using grants (12%) and a campus-based budget located outside of the library (10%) to support some portion of their activities this year.

Continuing the trend reported in previous years, lean, nimble staffing models support library publishing activities in most library publishing environments. Libraries report a range of 0.1 to 14.5 full-time equivalent (FTE) in professional staff directly supporting publishing activities. The average FTE for professional staff reported this year remained relatively stable at 2.1 FTE (as compared to 2.4 FTE in 2016 and 1.8 FTE in 2015). Paraprofessional staffing levels ranged from 0.06 to 9 FTE. Many institutions report staffing their programs in part with graduate students (20%) or undergraduates (27%). The graduate student staffing ranged from 0.1 to 5 FTE, and undergraduate student staffing ranged from 0.125 to 5 FTE. Slightly over half (51%) report that their library publishing activities are centralized in one department or unit; the remainder report decentralized, distributed staffing and services spread across a range of campus units.

This year, 57 of the lead contacts for the 118 responding institutions have the word “library” or “librarian” in their titles; 29 have the word “publisher” in their title (a significant increase from last year’s 19). Popular terms in titles include “Scholarly Communications” and “Scholarly Publishing.”

PLATFORMS AND INFRASTRUCTURE

Libraries report using many different publishing platforms, including open source, commercial, locally built, and externally hosted solutions. More than half (64%) currently use multiple platforms to support their work, while only 36% use a single platform for all of their publishing activities. For those 42 institutions that do report using only one platform, bepress Digital Commons (34 institutions) is the most popular choice; others include OJS (3 institutions) and DSpace (2 institutions).

Overall, Digital Commons continues to be used by nearly half of all respondents, increasing from 42% of respondents in 2016 to 46% in 2017. Other popular platforms include OJS (42%) and DSpace (28%). Fewer work with locally developed platforms (25%), WordPress (22%), CONTENTdm (17%), and Fedora (14%), and less than 10% each report working with EPrints (4 institutions), Scalar (6 institutions), Islandora (6 institutions), OMP (5 institutions), and other options.

LOOKING TOWARD THE FUTURE

Several notable trends stand out in our multi-year survey and data sets at this point. First, library publishing activities are increasing in institutions that have invested in this area, as we can see in the steady rise of staffing numbers and roles, output types, and publication numbers each year from 2013 to the present. Also important, we’re seeing that partnerships with other publishers continue to increase as library publishing activities scale up—for example, the jump from 30 to 40 respondents citing active collaboration with a university press in the last year. There has also been marked growth in attention to preservation over the last four years, with a broad range of respondents now actively engaged with LOCKSS, CLOCKSS, HathiTrust, Portico, MetaArchive, COPPUL, DPN, Dura-Cloud, and other preservation infrastructures and communities.

Many of the libraries represented in this Directory highlighted their plans to continue increasing their publication outputs, both in terms of numbers and formats. They also marked their continued interest in partnering with other publishers, both within and beyond their own campus settings. We look forward to watching the continued growth and maturation of this highly collaborative field of publishing activities. We hope the Directory will continue to help existing and prospective creators and publishers from across the spectrum of scholarly communications to identify new partners, learn from their colleagues’ experiences, and improve access to quality scholarship.

READING AN ENTRY: SOME “HEALTH WARNINGS”

Collecting and synthesizing the information provided by over 100 libraries in an evolving and experimental subfield like library-based publishing presents numerous challenges. Even in this fourth edition, we are refining our approach to data collection and presentation. We are pleased to present what we believe is the most accurate and complete Directory to date; but we ask that you continue to bear with minor inconsistencies that appear across entries.

Each of the entries in the Directory undergoes minor editing for style and consistency, but we largely leave it up to libraries to present their publishing programs as they see fit. As we reminded readers last year, labeling and categorizing the diverse set of “library publishing” activities is no easy feat; nor is setting boundaries around funding streams, staffing, and services that bear specifically on library publishing activities.

Respondents were instructed to base their answers on the last twelve months of their library activity, a period covering roughly July 2015 to July 2016. In some cases, questions in the questionnaire on which the entries are based still need to be clarified in order to ensure that we collect consistent data. For instance, we continue to note inconsistencies in the way that institutions report the numbers of publications they produce, with some reporting numbers of publications that were made available for the first time within the last twelve months and others reporting cumulative numbers of publications as of the date they completed the survey.

While we aim to present a full picture of the field, the Directory does not claim to be comprehensive. The questionnaire we use to collect data for the Directory was distributed to major library e-mail lists and forums in the United States and Canada and directly to representatives of all the libraries featured in last year’s edition. As in previous years, the majority of entries come from these regions, though there are a number of excellent programs from around the world represented herein.

Finally, readers will notice the presence of “seals” next to the title of some entries. These acknowledge the support of our Library Publishing Coalition Members and our Founding Institutions, who each provided $5,000 a year for two years to seed fund the project that founded the organization. To recognize their exceptional contributions, we include profiles of specific publications that Founding Institutions have nominated. These also give a practical sense of the wide range of types of publications produced.

We look forward to continuing to produce and improve the Directory with the input and participation of this vibrant community.

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

Mission statement: The Boston College Libraries' publishing program showcases and preserves Boston College's scholarly output in digital form and makes it freely accessible globally. The institutional repository, eScholarship@BC, is a publishing platform for student theses and juried work, and for faculty scholarship. We provide the Boston College Dataverse to members of our community who wish to publish their data. Open access journals provide faculty, student groups, and academic centers with a platform and services for production and publication of high-quality scholarship. The Libraries' publishing program supports the social justice mission of the university and promotes the goals of the Boston College Libraries by providing access to scholarly resources wherever they are needed.

Year publishing activities began: 2006

Organization: services are distributed across library units/departments

Total FTE in support of publishing activities: professional staff (3.5)

Funding sources (%): library operating budget (100)

PUBLISHING ACTIVITIES

Library publications in 2016: campus-based faculty-driven journals (1); campus-based student-driven journals (4); journals produced under contract/MOU for external groups (4); monographs (1); faculty conference papers and proceedings (2); newsletters (1); graduate ETDs (208); undergraduate capstones/honors theses (30)

Media formats: text; images; video; data

Disciplinary specialties: theology; education

Top publications: Information Technology and Libraries (journal); Studies in Christian-Jewish Relations (journal); Proceedings of the Catholic Theological Society of America (conference proceedings); Levantine Review (journal)

Percentage of journals that are peer reviewed: 25

Internal partners: campus departments or programs; individual faculty; graduate students; undergraduate students

External partners: Catholic Theological Society of America; ALA Library and Information Technology Association; Council of Centers on Christian-Jewish Relations; Seminar on Jesuit Spirituality

Publishing platform(s): OJS; Islandora; Dataverse

Digital preservation strategy: HathiTrust; LOCKSS; MetaArchive

Additional services: marketing; outreach; training; analytics; cataloging; meta-data; ISSN registry; DOI assignment/allocation of identifiers; open URL support; data set management; contract/license preparation; author copyright advisory; digitization; audio/video streaming

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

Plans for expansion/future directions: We plan to increase outreach efforts to capture more research data and scholarly publications. We are working to provide more services to those who publish open access journals with our program; we currently have two new journals in development. We also administer an affordable course materials program that we hope will generate some openly available educational content.

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

Mission statement: Harold B. Lee Library's primary publishing resources include an institutional repository and digital publishing services for faculty- and student-edited journals. Combined, these resources are called ScholarsArchive. ScholarsArchive is designed to make original scholarly and creative work—such as research, publications, journals, and data—freely and persistently available. The library's publishing efforts are targeted at supporting broader academic and public discovery and use of university scholarship. ScholarsArchive may also house items of historic interest to the university. The library supports content partners with software support, digitizing, metadata creation, journal management, and free hosting services.

Year publishing activities began: 2001

Organization: centralized library publishing unit/department

Total FTE in support of publishing activities: library staff (1.0); undergraduate students (0.5)

Funding sources (%): library operating budget (98); charge backs (2)

PUBLISHING ACTIVITIES

Library publications in 2016: campus-based faculty-driven journals (5); campus-based student-driven journals (4); monographs (1); faculty conference papers and proceedings (140); student conference papers and proceedings (49); ETDs (601)

Media formats: text; images

Disciplinary specialties: Mormon studies; natural history of the American West; children's literature; Sophie Project (German women authors)

Top publications: theses and dissertations (papers); faculty publications (papers); Journal of Microfinance/ESR Review (journal); Journal of East Asian Libraries (journal); BYU Studies (journal)

Percentage of journals that are peer reviewed: 100

Internal partners: campus departments or programs; individual faculty; graduate students; undergraduate students; Center for Teaching and Learning; Copyright Office

External partners: International Society for the Comparative Study of Civilizations (ISCSC); Association of Mormon Counselors and Psychotherapists (AMCAP); Council on East Asian Libraries (CEAL)

Publishing platform(s): bepress (Digital Commons); CONTENTdm; OJS

Digital preservation strategy: Rosetta

Additional services: analytics; metadata; digitization; hosting of supplemental content; data management; journal workflow support

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

Plans for expansion/future directions: Areas of future exploration and possible expansion include DOI support, hosting streaming media, and hosting open educational resources.

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

Mission statement: The Claremont Colleges Library publishing program provides centralized access to research and scholarship produced by faculty, students, and librarians. The library publishes quality open access journals and unique digital collections originating from the Claremont Colleges. Scholarship@Claremont is an open access scholarship repository and publishing platform with a set of services to capture, store, index, and provide access to scholarship produced by the Claremont Colleges academic community. It offers worldwide access to the scholarly output from Pomona College, Claremont Graduate University, Scripps College, Claremont McKenna College, Harvey Mudd College, Pitzer College, Keck Graduate Institute, and the Claremont Colleges Library. Undergraduate research figures prominently, as do the journals that range from undergraduate conference papers to interdisciplinary and discipline-specific publications with global contribution and access. Scholarship@Claremont brings the Claremont Colleges' scholarship together into one location to maximize visibility, influence, and benefit for the individual as well as the institutions.

Year publishing activities began: 2006 (first journal); 2010 (in earnest)

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

Mission statement: Northeastern University Library offers a growing suite of digital publishing services. The library-based publishing program provides an online platform for journal publishing (OJS) and the opportunity to produce innovative online collections and e-books based in its Digital Repository Service. Through the DRS, the Libraries also provide open access to the university's electronic theses and dissertations, scholarly research output, and university-produced objects. The library also manages the university's partnership with the University Press of New England, which produced titles under the Northeastern University Press imprint for 10 years and continues to handle reprints. As part of the publishing program the library is producing open access editions of select out-of-print NUP titles.

HIGHLIGHTED PUBLICATION

A compilation of selected crafts talks delivered by faculty at the Pacific University MFA program, this anthology is an exciting introduction to some of the most alert and engaged minds in literary writing in the US across many genres. The essays allow readers to see how the authors think about writing and about teaching writing. All author and editor royalties, as well as 50% of the net revenue from the title, are being donated to an MFA student scholarship fund.

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

Mission statement: Publishing & Curation Services, a department of the University Libraries, serves the Penn State community of authors and researchers with in-house publishing options and related consultation services. We have a commitment to open access, and complement the journal and monograph publishing services of the Penn State Press, offering practical alternative ways of publishing and disseminating research in many formats using a range of publishing platforms including OJS, OCS, our ScholarSphere repository, WordPress, Drupal, etc. We provide assistance to scholarly journals and societies in disseminating their publications and proceedings electronically, and our list includes the three primary journals for Pennsylvania history. Doctoral dissertations and master's theses for most academic programs, as well as the majority of undergraduate honors theses, are submitted digitally and are disseminated through a locally maintained database, and there is an active program of collecting and making other student research available.

Year publishing activities began: 2000

Organization: Primarily centralized library publishing unit/department located at the main campus. Various operations and publishing workflow responsibilities and support activities (depending on needs, content, format, etc.) are distributed among a range library units/departments, including technology support, cataloging and metadata services, digitization and preservation, etc.

Total FTE in support of publishing activities: professional staff (1.5); paraprofessional staff (0.75); graduate students (0.25)

Funding sources (%): library operating budget (99); licensing revenue (1)

Additional services: marketing; outreach; training; metadata; data set management; peer review management; budget preparation; author copyright advisory; other author advisory; hosting of supplemental content

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

Plans for expansion/future directions: Continuing to build formal program of tiered publishing services, particularly for research journals, data, conference proceedings, and student-initiated work. We are also concentrating on developing Drupal Biblio for publishing scholarly bibliographies; a major resource, Utopian Literature in English, is the first formal searchable database. PCS has a working relationship with the Penn State Press, which also reports to the Dean of Libraries and Scholarly Communications. We endorse and follow principles of open access to research information, and in April 2014 the University Libraries faculty voted to endorse open access publishing and submit their own scholarship to OA publishing venues whenever possible. The University Senate adopted an Open Access Resolution in April 2015.

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

Mission statement: A core strategic driver defined in the Queen's University's Strategic Framework, 2014–2019, is “research prominence.” The Library's supporting strategic priority for 2014–2017 seeks to “broaden the reach of Queen's research with expanded data curation and scholarly communications services, in collaboration with and in support of emerging regional and national initiatives.” Aligned to this and in support of a “balanced academy” that achieves excellence in both research as well as undergraduate and graduate education, the Library provides technology, implementation expertise, advocacy, and outreach on research publication and dissemination to researchers, students, and staff seeking to disseminate their research to a global audience via open access. Current publishing activities supported by the Library include: hosting ten scholarly open access journals in partnership with Scholars Portal and the Ontario Council of University Libraries using Open Journal Systems software; hosting and disseminating Queen's University's peer-reviewed open access research through our Research Repository, QSpace, including journal articles, graduate theses, conference papers, working papers, book chapters, and more. The Library also provides advice and support on publication impact metrics and usage as well as guidance on other areas of open access and scholarly publishing such as open monograph publishing, open educational resources, copyright, licensing, and negotiating publisher agreements.

HIGHLIGHTED PUBLICATION

This book makes an important and timely contribution to an increasingly global discourse on the meanings, values, and roles of public service in media provision today. The contributors explain why simple imitation is unlikely to ever work well enough across such a diverse range of countries and regions with crucial differences in their histories, languages, cultures, and experiences.

Mission statement: Digital Initiatives is a key part of the Library's strategy to support the evolving needs of faculty and students and to support teaching, research, and learning at UBC. Our goal is to create sustainable, world-class programs and processes that promote digital scholarship, make UBC research and digital collections openly available to the world, and ensure the long-term preservation of UBC's digital collections. cIRcle is an open access digital repository for published and unpublished material created by the UBC community and its partners. Its aim is to showcase and preserve UBC's unique intellectual output by making content freely available to anyone, anywhere, via the web.

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

Mission statement: The CDL Publishing team provides open access digital publication services to the University of California academic community, supports widespread distribution of UC research materials, and fosters new models of scholarly publishing through the development and application of advanced technologies. The CDL's suite of publication services includes a system-wide digital publications platform as well as tools to support the UC Open Access Policy. All of these services are a part of UC's broader effort to ensure a sustainable scholarly publishing system in the service of the university's research and teaching enterprise.

Year publishing activities began: 2002

Total FTE in support of publishing activities: professional staff (6)

Funding sources (%): library operating budget (100)

PUBLISHING ACTIVITIES

Library publications in 2016: campus-based faculty-driven journals (28); campus-based student-driven journals (11); monographs (19); technical/research reports (2,107); student conference papers and proceedings (7); ETDs (3,974); undergraduate capstones/honors theses (11); UC faculty postprints (14,929)

Media formats: text; images; audio; video; data; concept maps, modeling, maps, or other visualizations; we display PDF (rendered as an image), but can accept any file format as a supplemental file and allow end users to download it. We stream audio and video.

Top publications: Dermatology Online Journal (journal); Western Journal of Emergency Medicine (journal); California Agriculture (journal); Perspectives in Medical Humanities (book series); California Classical Studies (book series)

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

Plans for expansion/future directions: In 2017, CDL is rolling out a complete redesign of the eScholarship OA publishing platform to support HTML and multimedia publication formats, and to add support for optional services such as altmetrics and community discussion. We also plan to implement the Mellon-funded Editoria book production platform (a joint project of CDL and UC Press) on the back end, giving monograph publishing partners a robust toolset to streamline their workflow.

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

Mission statement: The Digital Production Services unit develops, manages, and publishes digital content from curatorial collections, in support of academic programs, organizes conversion and ingest capabilities, facilitates awareness, and coordinates instruction in scholarly use and development of digital technologies and their application to collection and publishing services. Additional activities in library and digital scholarship publishing continue to expand and evolve. This includes OJS and the OJS Team, and the LibraryPress@UF, which is a joint imprint with Libraries and the University of Florida Press.

The UF Press and Libraries both have deep expertise in digital publishing. With aligned missions and complementary roles, the UF Press and Libraries frequently collaborate to foster the creation, promotion, access, and preservation of research and creative works, in support of teaching, research, and the public sphere.

The LibraryPress@UF publishes works:

- Focused on areas unique to the LibraryPress@UF (e.g., limited editions, artists' books, campus specific, on UF history, developing and building upon the Libraries' digital and physical holdings)
- Selected to support the goals of the title, the Libraries' goals for LibraryPress@UF including enhancement and extension of the library collections, and the Press goals for LibraryPress@UF
- Selected to support the shared goal for increasing and enriching collaboration

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

Plans for expansion/future directions: Future plans include close collaboration with the University Press for the LibraryPress@UF. The Libraries and the Press also have a joint Mellon Open Book grant for the digitization and ePub creation for out-of-print books. The Libraries are extending the new experience with ePubs for the creation of ePub textbooks in collaboration with the University of Havana. Ongoing activities include publication of textbooks, artists' books, and experimental digital scholarship, along with integration with courses and academic programs, as with the academic publishing track in the graduate program for the Department of History and academic publishing internships and activities as they relate to the Digital Humanities Graduate Certificate.

The Libraries and Press are collaborating on diversity activities. The Libraries and Press also have an ARL SPEC Kit on libraries and presses that will be underway in 2017. The LibraryPress@UF has many books planned for 2016–2017.

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

Mission statement: The University of Kentucky (UK) Libraries launched an institutional repository (UKnowledge: uknowledge.uky.edu) in late 2010 to champion the integration and transformation of scholarly communication within the UK community. The initiative sought to improve access for students, faculty, and researchers to appropriate resources for maximizing the dissemination of their research and scholarship in an open and digital environment. A crucial component of UKnowledge is providing publishing services to broadly disseminate scholarship created or sponsored by the UK community. We provide a flexible platform to publish a variety of scholarly content and to expand the discoverability of the published works. Using state-of-the-art technologies, we are able to offer campus constituents sought-after services in different stages of the scholarly communication lifecycle to help them thrive and succeed. We also inform them of scholarly communication issues such as open access, author rights, open licensing, article-level metrics, researcher identity management, and the economics of scholarly publishing. Providing library publishing services is one avenue through which we are making significant contributions to the fulfillment of UK's mission.

Year publishing activities began: 2010

Organization: services are distributed across library units/departments

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

Additional information: Over 1,100 monographs published by the University Press of Kentucky are freely available to the current faculty, students, and staff of the University of Kentucky via UKnowledge.

Plans for expansion/future directions: UK Libraries will continue to strengthen existing library publishing partnerships, bring more campus constituents on board, and build upon our current library publishing services. We will pursue additional opportunities to collaborate with various campus units in support of undergraduate research as we celebrate UK students' academic achievements by making them visible and accessible worldwide. We will also assist UK-based print journals to create their online presence and extend their reach beyond academia. Through partnerships with UK researchers, we will explore data publishing. Last but not least, we will continue to advocate for open access and open licensing as well as inform the UK community of new scholarly communication practices such as article-level metrics, open peer review, and researcher identity management. We look forward to UKnowledge being the primary online publishing avenue for UK-based research and scholarship.

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

Mission statement: ScholarWorks@UMass Amherst is a digital repository for the research and scholarly output of members of the University of Massachusetts Amherst community, administered by the UMass Amherst Libraries. It is a way for UMass Amherst scholars to organize, store, and preserve research in a single unified location. It can accommodate virtually any publication, presentation, or production in electronic format including journal articles, conference materials, books, theses and dissertations, educational materials, working papers, data sets, and image, video, and audio files. These services enhance the professional visibility for faculty and researchers, and provide excellent search and retrieval facilities and broader dissemination.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

Plans for expansion/future directions: UMass Amherst Libraries plans to collaborate with the University of Massachusetts Press to provide complete solutions for published scholarly work in both print and electronic formats. We are also exploring the use of PressBooks through the OTN membership. Topics to address with both of these solutions include provision of joint editorial and production services. Content includes materials from the Open Education Initiative (OEI), which has saved students over $1.5 million in textbook costs and has resulted in innovative learning materials. A focus area for the upcoming year is outreach and expansion of services to the research centers and institutions on campus, so as to better serve and represent the strengths of UMass Amherst. Another focus area is the implementation of the UMass Amherst's Open Access Policy along with associated workflows and training materials. Longer term goals include capturing undergraduate research, particularly for the Honors College and outstanding departmental projects.

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

Mission statement: The University of Minnesota Libraries Open Scholarship & Publishing Services unit provides support to the University of Minnesota's faculty, staff, and students in publishing their scholarly and academic works. Broadly, we at the University of Minnesota Libraries aim to lead collective action to bring about a sustainable economic model for disseminating knowledge resources.

The University of Minnesota Libraries Publishing imprint is produced by the Open Scholarship & Publishing Services unit, which is part of the Content Services Department. Content Services includes interlibrary loan and document delivery services, copyright information and permissions services, and also includes our publishing services. Open Scholarship & Publishing Services provides a unique collection of services that relate directly to the needs of scholarly and academic content:

- The Copyright Information Services provides education and consultation services on copyright, licensing, and other intellectual property issues for the campus community.
- Copyright Permissions Services handles the rights management work for content reuse by our faculty, staff, and students.
- Publishing Services supports the creation, production, and dissemination of the University's faculty and instructor produced digital scholarship.

Through the implementation and promotion of sustainable services for publishing for scholarly, academic, and creative works for the University of Minnesota's campus community, we hope to engage authors and editors in dialog about scholarly communications, and new models of producing scholarship.

LeMay’s activities in World War II are well-documented, but his personal history is less thoroughly recorded. Throughout the war he wrote hundreds of letters to his wife, Helen, and daughter, Jane. They are published for the first time in this volume, weaved together with meticulously researched narrative essays buttressed by both official and unofficial sources and supplemented with extensive footnotes.

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

Mission statement: The Leddy Library supports the dissemination of new scholarship by undergraduates, graduates, faculty, and staff at the University of Windsor in a variety of forms. Through the Scholarship at UWindsor repository, we are able to support the dissemination of theses and dissertations that provides increased visibility to the work of our graduate students. We also use the repository to support conferences run on our campus by helping the organizers manage the submission, workflow, and publication process. As longstanding supporters of Open Journal Systems, the library helps to publish and maintain several journals run from our campus. We have also launched our first open access monograph series, Windsor Studies in Argumentation, with the Open Monograph Press software. Providing support for open access is a central concern in all of our publishing endeavors. We seek to educate our users about the value of open access and to encourage various forms of open access publication.

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

Mission statement: The Digital Collections Center was created to provide quality digital resources from academic libraries to UW faculty, staff and students, citizens of the state, and scholars at-large. Parallel Press promotes the Wisconsin Idea of making the research of the university available to the world at-large and engages in the research and teaching efforts of the university. It publishes print and digital publications featuring new works of scholars, researchers, and poets, and also makes important and out-of-print scholarly research available for study in both print and digital formats. These publications are the result of collaborations with the UW campus community and represent an ongoing commitment by the Libraries to scholarly communication as a contribution to the Wisconsin Idea and in support of the outreach mission of the university.

Year publishing activities began: 1999

Organization: services are distributed across library units/departments

Total FTE in support of publishing activities: professional staff (1); paraprofessional staff (1)

Funding sources (%): library operating budget (70); non-library campus budget (10); endowment income (5); charitable contributions/Friends of the Library organizations (5); sales revenue (5); other (5)

PUBLISHING ACTIVITIES

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

Mission statement: Virginia Tech Libraries provide publishing services to the university community and beyond, publishing works solely on the basis of academic merit and interest to the university community. The Libraries have put renewed emphasis on publishing, though they have hosted open access, peer-reviewed ejournals since 1989 and ETDs since 1996. VT Libraries began offering Open Journal Systems (OJS) in 2012 and Open Conference Systems (OCS) in 2013. We continue to expand publishing services and will support the many products of research and scholarship, including data visualization, interactive “books,” and open education resources. We are open to exploring faculty interests in publishing research and scholarship that is more than paper online, such as e-textbooks with interactive components and multimedia works. All collaborations result in sustainable publications that are included in our preservation strategy with the MetaArchive Cooperative. Like most library services, our publishing support is provided without charge and is not limited to working with just the Virginia Tech community.

Year publishing activities began: 1989

Organization: centralized library publishing unit/department

Total FTE in support of publishing activities: professional staff (0.5); paraprofessional staff (1.25); undergraduate students (0.25)

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

Mission statement: The mission of the Washington University in St. Louis publishing program is to provide alternatives to traditional publishing avenues and to promote and disseminate original scholarly works of the university community. Publishing is supported through two independent library repositories on the main and medical campuses: Open Scholarship provides a platform for the university community to make their scholarly and creative works available, providing free and open access whenever possible. The Scholarly Publishing department of the University Libraries provides overall administration for the repository, while the Law Library, recently merged with University Libraries, supports and manages publications affiliated with the School of Law. DigitalCommons@Becker enhances the visibility of scholarly work created through the School of Medicine, including faculty research and graduate capstones.

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

Mission statement: ANU E Press, as it was originally known, was established in 2003 to explore and enable new modes of scholarly publishing. Taking advantage of new information and communication technologies to make available the intellectual output of the ANU academic community, ANU E Press was Australia's first primarily electronic academic publisher. After 14 years of production, in early 2014 ANU E Press changed its name to ANU Press to reflect the changes the publication industry had seen since 2003. Now digital publication has become the norm across publishing, the Press no longer needs to set itself apart as a digital publisher, and so has taken the traditional academic publishing name of ANU Press. The primary focus of ANU Press is the electronic production of scholarly works. All works are also available for purchase as paperbacks; you can order these printed copies (print-on-demand (PoD)) via its website. In May 2016, ANU signed a partnership agreement with NewSouth Books to become their company of choice for ordering/printing and distribution. ANU Press publishes fully peer-reviewed research publications. The press has also another two imprints—ANU eView (Undergraduate Journals) and ANU eText (Textbooks)—imprints that have only been operational for 2 to 6 years.

HIGHLIGHTED PUBLICATION

The Joy of Sanskrit is a complete first-year course of twenty-five weeks designed for university students. This development represents a radical change in publishing aiming to bring textbooks for free to the world. In developing this electronic textbook the authors took full advantage of new technology, using audiovisual presentation, sound, text, and images to develop language skills.

Mission statement: The library provides open access-oriented publishing services to researchers, including Göttingen University Press, repositories for theses, and peer-reviewed publications. In addition, a central open access fund has been established, which covers article processing charges and monitors the uptake of gold open access at the university. These service areas are combined with strategic involvement in national and international initiatives, such as the working group for German-language university presses, the Association of European University Presses (AEUP), Confederation of Open Access Repositories (COAR), and OpenAIRE, the European-wide open access infrastructure for publications. These institutional activities work in both directions: they are crucial for enhancing local services and vice versa feed experiences and lessons learned into international collaborations.

Year publishing activities began: 1996

Organization: centralized library publishing unit/department

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

Mission statement: Stockholm University Press is a publicly financed operation with its main goal to provide public access to peer reviewed scientific results in multiple formats, both nationally and internationally. In partnership with our authors and series editors, we publish in the humanities, social sciences, and the natural sciences. We guarantee that all work we publish meets the highest academic standards by ensuring rigorous peer review is completed. We follow guidelines from the Committee on Publication Ethics (COPE) to ensure ethical editing and publishing. We believe that the control of publishing should be maintained by researchers themselves. All of our content is published under the terms of Creative Commons Licenses, which ensures that copyright remains with authors and also requires full attribution to accompany all reuse and dissemination. Our recommended license is CC-BY. The Press provides access to electronic journals and books free of charge, and to printed books at cost. We aim to make journals and books affordable, and to give them the widest possible dissemination so that researchers around the world can find and access the information they need without barriers. SUP was founded after a decision made by the Vice Chancellor in December 2012.

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

Mission statement: Publishing and Data Services at the University of Sydney Library support the many ways that academics want to communicate the results of their research. We offer publishing platforms that support open journals and provide open access to digital materials, both text and multimedia. Sydney Open Journals is a fully featured journal publishing platform, offering editorial workflows from submission and selection, through peer review and feedback, to publication and promotion. The Sydney eScholarship Repository can store technical reports, data sets, conference papers, as well as audio, video, and other multimedia material. All repository materials are searchable via Google Scholar, maximizing access to content. Other solutions, including digitization, data visualization, and research data management are also available.

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

Mission statement: UTS ePRESS is the digital, open access scholarly publishing arm of UTS. We publish high-quality scholarly titles across a wide range of academic disciplines, including governance, history, law, literacy, international studies, society and social justice, and indigenous studies. Focusing on open access digital formats only, UTS ePRESS currently publishes journals, books, and conference proceedings, and is the leading publisher of peer reviewed open access journals in Australasia. UTS ePRESS seeks to publish peer reviewed, scholarly literature in areas of strategic priority for UTS and beyond, attracting the involvement of leading scholars from around the world. In doing so, our aim is to enhance scholarly publishing by exploring, innovating, and enabling new modes of publication in the digital arena. UTS ePRESS is a not-for-profit publisher. We strongly support the free dissemination of scholarly material and, since our inception, have deepened our commitment to open access publishing, despite the growth of complex and diverse publishing models across the world. Our goal is to unlock publicly funded research and share knowledge that will benefit scholars, researchers, readers, and the public, and to extend its reach and impact by making it openly available and widely accessible to a global audience.

INVITATION TO JOIN

The LPC promotes collaboration, knowledge sharing, and networking among library publishers and between libraries and other publishers by supporting an evolving, distributed range of publishing practices. We welcome membership applications from academic and research libraries from around the world.

ENGAGE WITH OUR INTERNATIONAL COMMUNITY OF PRACTICE:

- Connect with a diverse community of members. From small liberal arts colleges to large research universities, the LPC connects libraries with diverse profiles, interests, and areas of expertise.
- Access the members-only mailing list. Stay up to date with the latest from the LPC and the library publishing community.
- Benefit from special registration rates to LPC events. Attend our popular Library Publishing Forum at a discounted rate.

JUMP-START OR ENHANCE YOUR LIBRARY PUBLISHING INITIATIVES

- Access our shared documentation library. Consult resources created by your colleagues: everything from checklists for starting new journals to model MOUs.
- Participate in webinars with leading experts and vendors. Stay up to date with the latest in the theory and practice of library publishing with our regular webinar series.
- Browse our job board. Consult our archive of job descriptions for an up-to-date look at available jobs or to inform the development of new positions at your institution.

LEAD CHANGE IN SCHOLARLY COMMUNICATIONS AND PUBLISHING

- Gain voting rights in the Coalition. Ensure that your voice is heard in planning future directions and activities.
- Participate in national and international conversations. The LPC represents the interests of our community within a growing network of university presses, scholarly publishers, vendors, and professional associations.
- Serve on committees and task forces. Contribute directly to the advancement of the field by joining the dedicated group of volunteers who keep the LPC moving.
