

Library Publishing Directory Questionnaire

Complete this questionnaire by September 13, 2021 to be considered for inclusion in the 2022 Library Publishing Directory, published by the Library Publishing Coalition.

A version of the Directory will be openly available online. The questionnaire takes between 30 and 45 minutes to complete. You can save your progress and return later, but we recommend previewing the questions before you begin. If your library has had an entry in a previous edition of the Directory, you should have received an email with instructions on how to update it. Email contact@librarypublishing.org with questions.

Step 1 of 2 - Guidelines

50%

Guidelines

Responses to this survey will be used to create:

1. The Library Publishing Directory (maintained by the Library Publishing Coalition)
2. A Global Library Publishing Map (maintained by IFLA Library Publishing Special Interest Group)

Information collected includes:

- General information about the library publishing initiative and sponsoring institution
- Contact information for a program representative
- Information about staffing and organization of the program
- Publication types and numbers
- Information on platforms used, media types published, services provided, and preservation

services

Please follow these guidelines when completing the questionnaire:

1. Do not include any information that you do not want to share with others.
2. If a university press reports to your library, do not include its activities in your answers unless specified.
3. Responses in English are strongly preferred; we may not be able to include responses in other languages.
4. Base your answers on the following definition of library publishing:

Library publishing services are defined here as:

...the set of activities led by academic and research libraries and library consortia to support the creation, dissemination, and curation of scholarly, creative, and/or educational works.

Generally, library publishing requires a production process, presents original work not previously made available, and applies a level of certification to the content published, whether through peer review or extension of the institutional brand.

Based on core library values and building on the traditional skills of librarians, it is distinguished from other publishing fields by a preference for Open Access dissemination and a willingness to embrace informal and experimental forms of scholarly communication and to challenge the status quo.

For example, an institutional repository containing only previously published materials, or digitization of previously published materials, would NOT be counted as library publishing for the purposes of this questionnaire.

For example, an ETD (electronic theses and dissertations) program, production and/or hosting of journals, and hosting of original datasets WOULD be considered library publishing for the purposes of this questionnaire.

Based on this definition, does your library currently provide library publishing services? *

Diversity & Inclusion

The Library Publishing Coalition, through its Diversity & Inclusion Committee, is interested in gauging the impact of diversity, equity, inclusion (DEI) and anti-racist action within the global library publishing community. The questions below are optional and are designed to help the LPC provide additional resources and guidance towards diversity and inclusion in the coming years as part of its mission outlined in the LPC Roadmap to Anti-Racist Practices. This information will not be published in the directory and will only be shared with the LPC Directory committee, the LPC Board, and LPC Diversity and Inclusion Task Force.

Does your library publishing program currently have a statement or policy (or set of policies) that helps you enact anti-racist practice, equity and inclusion?

- yes
- no

If your statement or policy is public, could you please share a link to it?
